

The Hunter Blackboard
What's HOT & Happening in the Hunter!

Saturday September 19th, 2009 Hope Estate

As the Beatles once sang, he's back where he once belonged. John Farnham Live By Demand is just that. It meets a ceaseless national enquiry over the past three years as to when the man, who has sold more tickets and more albums and notched up more achievements than any other Australian musician, would return to perform.

This performance will see John and his crack ten-piece band look back over career highlights, rendering the songs he loves. This will be an opportunity to witness at close quarters a consummate singer and entertainer of more than forty years experience and unparalleled achievement, looking at the body of his work through the eyes, attitude and perspective he possesses now.
